INDEX CHANGE NOTICE
5 February 2010

INDEX REVIEW RESULTS OF BENCHMARK INDEXES

The Hang Seng Family of Indexes was reviewed today for the period ended December 2009. The previously announced new design for the Hang Seng Family of Indexes was adopted in this index review. All changes will take effect on 8 March 2010 (Monday).

Benchmark Indexes in the Hang Seng Family of Indexes include the Hang Seng Composite Index ("Composite Index") and its sub-indexes, namely the Hang Seng Composite Industry Index Series and the Hang Seng Composite Size Index Series. The Composite Index is calculated end-of-day to provide a benchmark for performance comparison and attribution analysis.

There will be 309 constituents in the Composite Index after constituent changes. Assuming the constituent changes had been made, the average market value coverage ratio for the 12 months ended December 2009 would have become 91.18%.

Please refer to the Appendix for the constituent changes.
